

CENTRAL CAROLINA
Community Foundation

Central Carolina Community Foundation is #yalltogetherSC

Most Y'all of All Prize by Central Carolina Community Foundation

Central Carolina Community Foundation is offering $1,500 in prize monies to nonprofits that participate in the #yalltogetherSC campaign.

Every week between October 23 and November 27, our Foundation will award a $250 prize to the nonprofit who has the most creative post as determined by a panel of communication experts from South Carolina.

Nonprofits who are physically located within Central Carolina Community Foundation's 11-county footprint* and meet the Foundation's eligibility requirements, outlined on our website here, are eligible to participate.

The following criteria will be taken into consideration when determining each week's winning post:

- Creativity of post in relation to each week's #yalltogetherSC call to action
- Engagement of post (likes, shares, comments)

Nonprofits may only win one prize during the six week campaign.

How Nonprofits Can Participate:

Eligible nonprofits can participate by creating a social media post (Facebook, Twitter, or Instagram) that follows the week's #yalltogetherSC celebratory call to action. The post should include the hashtags #yalltogetherSC AND #CCCFGives.

The deadline to launch your weekly post is Thursday by midnight of each week. The prize winner will be announced each Tuesday during Together SC's Facebook Live and posted on CCCF's social media platforms.

*Central Carolina Community Foundation's serves the following 11 counties: Calhoun, Clarendon, Fairfield, Kershaw, Lee, Lexington, Newberry, Orangeburg, Richland, Saluda, and Sumter.